JUST FOR VARIETY

GOOD MORNING: Oliver Stone, reached in Frankfurt yesterday, told me his reaction to the former Navy pathologists' statements insisting one gunman and two bullets killed JFK. The medics decided to finally go public via an American Medical Assn. Journal interview, after seeing "JFK." "Why is there no cross-questioning?" asked Stone. "What is new? After 28 years, two doctors come out and say they were right all along—without any new evidence— and that's front page news?" Stone says a Marina Oswald press confab upcoming may shed some newer light. Stone is in Frankfurt—en route to Thailand—for "Heaven and Earth" banker meets with Regency and with Scriba Films. Latter hopes to open up markets in Russia—Stone may be involved with 'em there. We also told Stone about Tuesday's Oliver North radio interview with Rush Limbaugh in which North inferred that Stone, through an intermediary, was trying to buy his (North's) autobio to film. Stone's answer: "That's funny." ... Yesterday, from the Pasadena City Jail, Eric Douglas, there on a four-day sentence for
